WEX web-based examination software

Your field has improved improve also the testing!

WEX represents a new generation of modular professional web-based on-line examination software for a wide range of applications. WEX is designed for university students examination as well as for the proficiency testing. We offer the full service including query design.

Biologicals